Dr. Falconer,
c/o University of Toronto,
Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sir,-

Some time ago I tried and passed what I thought was my Junior Matriculation.

I tried to register with the University and was advised that I had no standing. It seems that I tried and passed half the papers one year and the remainder the next year whereas I should have passed half the subjects the one year and the remainder the next.

At the same time I tried, Mr. Drumm, son of Rev. A. H. Drumm, also tried in exactly the same manner, being advised to do so by the principal. We obtained very nearly the same marks in each paper, passing all of them.

When I was advised by the University that I had no standing, I wrote Mr. Drumm as I knew he was taking a University course, to find out what trouble he had to register.

He advised me that the University refused his certificate but that his father took the matter up with you and explained it reaching some arrangement by which he did not have to try the Junior Matriculation again.

I have had a petition before the Senate since the first of February but have heard nothing ~~definit~~ definite as yet.

I certainly would be pleased to go to Toronto and present my case personally if you think it advisable.

Yours respectfully,

S. G. Moore

Dear Sir:

The Registrar informs me that there is a difference between the case of Mr. Drumm and yourself. Owing to a mistake in advice given to Mr. Drumm by the Principal, and at the urgent request of Trinity College, he was allowed into the Faculty of Arts of the University on the understanding that before proceeding to the second year all the work of the first year should be completed, including the subjects not covered at his matriculation. A certificate of matriculation was not given to Mr. Drumm. You, however, I understand are applying for registration in the Dental College. The considerations that held over Mr. Drumm in Arts are different from those obtaining in Dentistry.

Your petition has not been dealt with yet because at the last meeting of the Senate Dean Willmott was not there, and his opinion carries the greatest weight in this connection. I hope, however, that it will be taken up soon.

Yours sincerely,

President.
